HUGH S. LEGARE, Attorney General.-Mr. Legare is a citizen of Charlestor, S. C., and we be here a descendant of one of the old French Huguenet families which settled there over a century ngo. He became eminent by his writings in the "Southern Review," a Quarterly published in Charleston some years since. He was appointed Charge to Belgium, by Gen Jackson, being a warm "Union,' man as opposed to Nullification. He returned to Charleston in 1936-7, and was soon after proposed for Congress and elected, turning out Hon. H. L. Pinckney (Nullifier) on a medly of political and local issues. Mr. L. went to Congress in 1837 as an Administration man, but, on the Sub-Treasury being proposed by Mr. Van Buren, he took ground against it in a profound and masterly speech, as also in a powerful "Letter to a constituent." For his course he was thrown out of Congress at the next election - Charleston being the strongest Sub-Treasury city in the Union-but he abated nothing of his warfare upon the Sub-Treasury project, speaking nums nously at our Conservative State Convention las.
